

Arnold & Porter

Arnold & Porter is a firm of more than 1,000 lawyers, providing sophisticated litigation and transactional capabilities, with renowned regulatory experience. Clients turn to our Energy practice for our multi-disciplinary industry experience including mergers and acquisitions, financing, capital markets, regulatory, compliance, enforcement, litigation and environmental matters. We are known for assisting clients with energy regulatory matters before FERC, the CFTC, NERC and its regional entities, the Department of Energy, federal and state courts, and state public utility commissions. We also represent clients in administrative litigation before FERC, as well as in appeals and other matters before the courts in matters of significant importance to individual clients and the industry as a whole.
